A TEACHER WEEK

BATTER UP PRESENTS

GOOD THINGS HAPPEN WHEN YOU GIVE CAKE.

Batter Up is a blog, a social experiment, and a movement to encourage people to share stories over homemade food.

Every week different deserving people are chosen to be battered with cake. This week is CAKE! A TEACHER WEEK and you've been battered!

To learn more about the project, please visit the website and follow us on Facebook and Twitter. In the meantime, we hope this cake inspires you to slow down, surprise someone with the gift of homemade food, and get to know the people around you.
